

National Fishing in Schools Program Teacher Workshop

June 9-10, 2016

Basalt, CO

The National Fishing in the Schools Program (NFSP) is a nationwide, all-inclusive, in-school program that provides teachers with: training, curriculum, equipment, online support, opportunities for grant funding and more. NFSP is designed to be taught by teachers during the regular school day.

Whether you are an experienced angler or picking up a rod for the first time, NFSP makes it easy to learn and teach the positive lifetime activity of fishing to elementary, middle and high school students.

Roaring Fork Conservancy educators are certified teacher-trainers for the NFSP Level 1 Teacher Training.
